from what i can see initially their bodies vibrate at tremendous speed in this way each spot is acting as a probe to determine the levels of a specific gene expression in a collection of cells.